CUCS TRENTO 2019
VI CONFERENCE

CITIZENSHIP AND COMMON GOODS
University and international cooperation for safety, environment and sustainable development

PROGRAMME  Trento 19-21 September
The University of Trento and the International Cooperation Centre are honoured to welcome you all to the 6th CUCS Conference. CUCS is the University Coordination for Development Cooperation, a network of 30 Italian universities.

The CUCS Conferences, conceived by the academic community, address students, civil society organisations, scholars, representatives of national and local authorities, as well as any other person engaged on development cooperation, active citizenship, sustainability, human rights, and much more.

In the last ten years development cooperation has inevitably and profoundly changed; new agendas, new actors, new approaches but also new goals. The debate at national level on the actors operating in the context of international cooperation in Italy and abroad has also changed. The CUCS congress is an opportunity to reflect on these changes and to share, at the national level, what challenges await us and how we can equip ourselves to better face them. Within international and national scenarios, not always easy to interpret and adapt to.

An interconnected and complex world poses continuous challenges, also in terms of protecting and promoting common goods and exercising citizenship. The theme of this year’s conference is inspired by the continuous evolution and expansion of the concept and practice of development cooperation, starting by focusing on citizenship, in its local and global meaning, and the management of common goods, long-standing issues that the current and future global dynamics continuously pose as critical issues and opportunities for a sustainable development.

During the three-day conference in Trento, we wish universities, together with all the actors of development cooperation, will intend to strengthen dialogue and discussion in a perspective of co-design and sharing of knowledge in order to promote and implement actions and policies starting from the three pillars of the universities’ mission: research, training, knowledge-sharing, contributing to “strengthen the means of implementation and renew the global partnership for sustainable development”.

We are looking forward to an enriching, stimulating, and inspiring edition of CUCS 2019!
