Profil and non-profit collaboration: a change for development cooperation?

This session is designed to analyze the linkages between profit and non-profit sectors and cooperation at the local level. In particular, the change in perspective in the way the Legge 125/2014, which have novel scenarios for industrial relationships that are relevant to the local dynamics of cooperation and the sustainability of local development.

The paper illustrates how the profit approach to development cooperation has been shifted, and how new scenarios can be developed that are in line with the objectives of the Local Agenda 2030. The profit approach has been a stepping stone for the development of new scenarios, which have been developed to address local dynamics.

The paper illustrates how the profit approach to development cooperation has been shifted, and how new scenarios can be developed that are in line with the objectives of the Local Agenda 2030. The profit approach has been a stepping stone for the development of new scenarios, which have been developed to address local dynamics.

In the paper, the authors describe how the profit approach to development cooperation has been shifted, and how new scenarios can be developed that are in line with the objectives of the Local Agenda 2030. The profit approach has been a stepping stone for the development of new scenarios, which have been developed to address local dynamics.